Members should be horrified about the contents of a report detailing major failings of the South the Wales Fire and Rescue Authority.

Allegations of sexism and abusive behaviour towards staff had prompted the investigation which found "serious deficiencies in the service" after surveying 450 staff. The report concluded the service "tolerates" firefighters posting sexualised images in their uniform on the adult platform OnlyFans.

Its authors said they "heard and saw examples of inappropriate comments made to and/or about women and/or about the way they look or dress".
